Doors that Open - new beginnings

About a year ago, an opportunity knocked at the door of Infocareer, it was a call from one of our customers asking our CEO Chandra, to identify a fresh crop of talent, to provide them a pool of intelligent and passionate individuals to support their team. Chandra was already in USA and parked the task on my shoulders. A challenge to fulfill our customers'need, to identify the right attitude and qualification to fit the role of Data Annotators, in just about two weeks.

With the able support of several of our Infocarers, a plan and strategy was drawn. The real test to use ICLeaF in the recruitment process simultaneously began. Our customer willingly shared their Knowledge to us, that really helped us to understand the actual task. We created a qualifying assessment on our ICLeaF platform, to test the selected candidates and consider only those who scored 50 percent or more.

It wasn't easy to deal with the current pool of young talent available in the market. Just out of college, the kind of demands made by the candidates were far more than the actual skill sets they had in them. But Infocareer persevered with only one objective, identify the best and never to compromise on Quality of the candidate.

We did succeed in the placement. Those young Annotators have matured like fine wine, to understand that they have embarked on a career that leads them to become a Data Scientist/Analyst.

Should we say that a role of an Annotator is the stepping stone to be a part of today's Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML) world? Most certainly, a YES.
With 12 months of exposure, training and fundamentals engrained in them by our customer, Intellect Design Arena, they have been upgraded to perform tasks with continued knowledge transfer by positioning them in their Testing and Operations team.
When there is a knock on your door, it is an opportunity to rise up from the floor, grab it and run towards the shore, else you will miss the boat that's going to build your fortune for sure.

Infocareer's Mediclaim Policy
– my experiences

Our organization had been talking to us about starting a Corporate Group Medical Hospitalisation Scheme for a while for all of us and our family members. While I do have an individual Mediclaim policy, I was aware of the challenges of using an individual policy vs a corporate policy in case of unforeseen hospitalization based my past experiences of working with corporates. So as soon as Infocareer launched the Group Mediclaim scheme earlier this year, I jumped at the opportunity to enroll myself and my family in the scheme.

As ill luck would have it, my son had to undergo an emergency hospitalization a few days ago and Infocareer's Group Mediclaim scheme came to the rescue. All hospitals treat Corporate policies and Individual policies differently and the hospitalization coverage under the corporate policy gave better coverage as compared to individual policy. I have used my individual Mediclaim policy in the past but this time with the corporate policy the process was smoother with:

- No advance deposits till pre-approvals come from the Insurance service provider

- No pestering by hospital for additional approvals/payments in spite of higher expenses

- Quick turnaround of approvals (within 30 mins) from the service provider compared to a few hours for individual policy

- Higher limits in Corporate policy for rooms, Operation theater charges etc.

- Very low amount of employee/insured co-share compared to individual policy

- A corporate discount in the overall bill offered by the hospital at the time of discharge

- Lower premium for Corporate policy compared to Individual policy

- Full support from Infocareer Corporate teams in providing policy details and no need for individual to search around for documentation.

I am glad that I went in for Infocareer's Group Mediclaim policy even though I have an Individual family coverage policy separately. Though Insurance is something we hope we never actually use, it's better to be safe than sorry. The benefits, if required to be used, far outweigh the additional premium payable by the employees. A tremendous amount of pain and suffering can be eliminated using a Corporate group Mediclaim scheme.

PMP Success

I must acknowledge that in recent times, the PMP® has been one of the criteria in my selection of interview candidates for project manager roles.

Credit should, however, be given where due; preparing for the exam is no easy feat. It requires hundreds of hours of study, practicing scenario exam questions and validating an understanding of theoretical concepts, which you are expected to have applied. Experienced professionals who had driven projects under a different approach have the demanding task to rethink, readjust and conform their years of practice to a 'new way' of doing things.

Kudos, to the Project Management Professional certified (PMP®) for building a global brand that is in itself widely believed to be synonymous with project management competence.

AYSWARYA SIVAKUMAR

Inforcareer has their program for PMP well structured which provides the candidates an idea of the content and flow from the beginning. The multiple tests that come for each chapter helps in understanding different ways in which a question can be posed. Trainers with in-depth knowledge and are available any time you need support. All of this helped me clear PMP. Thank you Infocareer!
